Artistic rendering of the future Richmond Greenway

The Richmond Greenway is a community bicycle and walking trail that will bring new recreational opportunities and open space to Richmond residents (see map on reverse). Join City of Richmond staff, Rails-to-Trails Conservancy, community members and various stakeholders to learn more about the Richmond Greenway project.

The meeting will cover:

- Project update – construction will begin soon!
- Maintenance and safety
- Benefits to the community
- Question and answer session

The Richmond Greenway Project

The Richmond Greenway is bounded by Garrard Boulevard on the west and Key Boulevard on the east. Running parallel to Ohio and Chanslor Streets, the Greenway will ultimately connect with the San Francisco Bay Trail to the west, and the Ohlone Greenway in the City of El Cerrito to the east.

Note: Class I = off-street path, Class II = designated on-street bike lane, Class III = on-street bike route
