TOM BUTT led the adoption of Railroad Quiet Zones in Richmond, establishing nearly two dozen from Parchester to Marina Bay; eliminating over 1,000 98-decibel horn blasts every day.

TOM BUTT saved the historic Ford Assembly Plant in Richmond from demolition and led the effort to restore it.

TOM BUTT fought off efforts to raze historic Richmond Civic Center and led the successful effort to save and rehabilitate it to become an award-winning, LEED Gold center of civic pride.

TOM BUTT owns an architecture & engineering firm in Richmond with 25 employees – the only City Council member and candidate who actually owns a business and has to make a payroll.

Richmond is in a better place
than it was when I was first elected. It is safer, cleaner, healthier, quieter and greener. It is more equitable and livable, has a more diversified economy and a growing reputation as a city where

“We can do it!”
